About this Learning Opportunity

During these two webinars, Dr. Hanser will explain how the alternative pencils were developed and how teachers and therapists can make decisions about which approach to use with a student, and how to implement the approach once the appropriate alternative access has been determined.

This session addresses the TQS competency #4: Establishing Inclusive Learning Environments

About the Facilitator(s)

Dr. Hanser is the Occupational Therapist whose time at the Center for Literacy and Disability Studies developed the Alternative Pencils approach to providing access to the alphabet for students with significant disabilities.

This learning opportunity is being provided through funding from Alberta Education.
