About this Learning Opportunity

Thinking of making a digital or blended breakout/escape room for your students or adding new strategies to your puzzles toolkit? Finding your students have found ways to hack parts of your activity (showing great resourcefulness and initiative today on their part, but maybe you'd like to mitigate this recurring next time!)? Digital Breakout enthusiasts and newbies unite!

In this session we'll pool our minds together to share tips, resources, and strategies that we've tried out with our classes, and leave with a good toolkit of how to shape our - and our students' - next breakout activities for continued puzzlement and success!
